To the Directory User

Our goal is to produce a valuable resource tool that is easier to use than the phone book and to place it in your hands for free.

The River Valley Behavioral Health Access and Assessment Center's Crisis and Information Line division has compiled this information, but it must be noted that we could not have done so without the cooperation of the agencies and organizations listed. We would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank those of you who responded to our requests. In the future, as changes occur in your agency, please do be sure to inform us. Your comments on the Directory's functionality are also welcome. On the other hand, if you know of any other agencies you would like to see added, please just let us know so we can immediately update and upload the corrected version.

A great deal of effort and care has been taken to secure current and accurate information for this Directory. In the compilation of this resource daily, it has been surprising how many groups/agencies/organizations come and go. While we attempt to update all data on a regular basis, it is inevitable that some errors or omissions may have occurred. For this we do apologize, and pledge to correct them in subsequent editions. Neither River Valley Behavioral Health, Access and Assessment Center, nor the Crisis and Information Line are liable for damages resulting from such errors.

CDWs are on duty 24 hours a day. They handle two kinds of complaints; status and public offenses. Status offenses are non-criminal forms of juvenile behavior, such as running away from home, skipping class, or exhibiting beyond control behaviors at home or at school. Public offenses are the same as adult crimes; some are misdemeanors, others are felonies. Mission Statement

We at the Emergency Shelter for Women, Inc. receive our mission from God through Isaiah, the Prophet. Our God says, "Share your bread with those who are hungry, and when you see people who have no home, give them a place to live. Give clothes to anyone who needs them and be kind to your family. Then you will be the morning light that comes after the darkness of night and your sins will be forgiven. You will call upon God to help you and God will say, here I am! Don't hurt people by lying about them or saying unkind things about them. Give bread to the hungry and help those who suffer. When you do these things, your gloom will be changed to joy, and you will shine with the brightness of God's Light.

Services Offered

The shelter provides a warm, safe haven for women and children. We provide food, shelter and guidance for homeless women in the Henderson and surrounding areas. The facility can hold up to 22 women and children at a time and is always prepared to give a bed to a homeless woman. In the event we are full; we will assist in trying to locate a shelter that may not be full.

The Shelter is non-denominational in its Board of Directors and the people it serves. We are determined to begin with the simple goal of serving women by supplying housing, food and help in locating further services in the following areas: permanent housing, clothing, child care, casework, etc. We try to direct women to a variety of resources in order to help them become self-sufficient.

Office Hours: 8:30am - 3:30pm M-F

Director: Virginia Braswell

Mission Statement

Habitat for Humanity International is a non-profit ecumenical Christian housing ministry. HFHI seeks to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness from the world and to make decent shelter a matter of conscience and action. Habitat invites people from all walks of life to work together in partnership to help build houses for people in need.

Basic Information

- Our affiliate was established in October, 1988
- We have built 117 houses for partner families in our community. In 2011, we were able to put 7 families in homes. We are currently working on houses #118 and 119
- Application information is available at our office. We require that a partner family put in at least 350 hours of "sweat equity". This is the amount of time a homeowner has to work with our affiliate before being able to move into his or her house. This work includes helping to build the home, assisting in our office, or with special projects, and helping to build someone else's Habitat home.
- Our Habitat affiliate takes applications the months of January and June.
- Many different groups come together in this community to build these houses. Habitat board and committee members help, along with churches, civic groups, schools, builders and trades people. If someone wants to help, we find a job for them, regardless of age, skill or physical limitations!
- We frequently work with what we call "Covenant Churches" in our community to raise funds and to actually build houses. Habitat believes in the "theology of the hammer" This means that our religious beliefs may vary, but we all can be united in building homes for low income families - giving them a hand up, not a hand out.
- House size is determined by size of family.
- We sell houses to our partner families, financed with no interest mortgages that are issued for 20 years. House payments go into a fund that is used to buy property and to build more houses.

Eligibility Requirements

- Need for housing.
- Ability to pay.
- Willingness to partner.

There is a $10.00 sign-up fee for required financial counseling. This $10.00 fee is due at the application meeting you attend. There will be a $25.00 fee due at the first counseling appointment. For income guidelines and other information contact the office at 270-926-6110.

This is commonly known in the community as the “Saturday Work Program.” This includes adjudicated youths as well as students referred by the Henderson County secondary schools. Zion Cemetery on South Green Street.
- Adult Community Service Program - This is a placement program for low-income or unemployed offenders. These individuals perform community service at non-profit agencies or governmental agencies in lieu of paying fines, as a condition of pre-trial diversion, or a condition of Deferred Prosecution. Handy Festival and Bambino World Series) receive thousands of hours and dollars of free labor from this service.

(270) 689-6500

(270) 689-6639

Service Description

IMPACT is a legislatively-mandated program serving selected children with severe emotional disabilities and their families. IMPACT uses a case management model and specialized funding support, to arrange and coordinate services to consumers, with goal of minimizing or avoiding out-of-home placement.

Program staff includes a Local Resource Coordinator who manages the program and supervises a team of Service Coordinators (case managers) who are responsible for connecting families with additional service providers as needed who work directly with consumers. The program services consumers in all seven counties of the Green River Region, although the majority of its staff is located at the Cigar Factory Complex.

The program is "governed" by a Regional Interagency Council, whose existence and composition is also mandated. It is composed of seven voting members, including representatives of the Department of Community Based Services, mental health, the school systems of the Region, the Court systems of the Region, the Department for Juvenile Justice, the Health Department and a parent/consumer advocate. The RIAC selects program participants from those who are nominated and approves plans for services and expenditures of "wrap around" funds as requested by a Local Interagency Service Team (LIST).

Fees/Eligibility

Eligibility for the program is determined by the Regional Interagency Council. Impact is funded by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation Services and Kentucky Medicaid. Additional services can be billed to the Impact Plus program. There are no fees charged to families participating in the program.

Referrals

Potential consumers may be nominated by anyone by completing a nomination form; consumers can also contact the Local Resource Coordinator for IMPACT at the Cigar Factory Complex or any of the IMPACT Service Coordinators. Nomination does not guarantee acceptance into the program. Program size is limited for IMPACT.

RiverValley Behavioral Health - Therapeutic Foster Care Program

1100 Walnut Street

270-689-6500

Owensboro, KY 42301

Program Description

River Valley Behavioral Health's therapeutic foster care program consists of a network of highly trained foster families who provide care to children within its catchments' area, which currently includes seven counties of western Kentucky: Daviess, Webster, Union, Henderson, Hancock, Mclean, and Ohio. The children served may have emotional disabilities which are severe, complex, and persistent, often in combination with mental retardation; or they may be in crisis but able to be stabilized safely in a therapeutic family setting. Therapeutic foster care is family-based care in which the foster family is viewed as the primary treatment agent. Foster parents are trained and supported to implement key elements of treatment in the context of family and community life while supporting the goals of permanency planning for children in their care. While the role of foster parents is central to the service delivery approach, treatment planning is a team function carried out under the clinical direction of qualified program staff. Treatment typically focuses on teaching the adaptive, pro-social skills and responses which equip young persons and their families with the means to deal effectively with the unique conditions or individual circumstances which have created the need for treatment.

Program Goals

- To end the multiple "revolving door" placements which are inevitable when appropriate levels of care aren't available
- To prepare children for permanent placement with their own families, adoptive families, or independent living
- To show better short and long term outcomes for children while reducing the overall expenses of treatment by providing the optimal care at the right time
